

Stephanie Enyart

Aaron Preece

Neva Fairchild

Amir Rahimi

Seeking Workplace Accommodations and Accessible Tools for Low Vision Employees

Thursday, December 2nd from 1 to 2 pm EST

The American Foundation for the Blind (AFB) is hosting a conversational webinar, sponsored by Horizon Therapeutics, for patients living with vision loss, including individuals living with Thyroid Eye Disease (TED). This webinar will consist of panelists who will discuss issues relating to workplace accommodations and accessible technology.

Topics of discussion include:

- What mainstream and assistive technology tools allow employees with visual impairments to be successful and productive in their work tasks?
- How do individuals with visual impairments learn to use assistive technology and other accommodations?
- How do individuals with visual impairments discuss their vision loss with colleagues, managers, and HR specialists?
- Should you disclose your vision loss and accommodation needs to potential employers during the interview process?
- How do you adapt to vision loss and what other support services are available outside of work?

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

Registered participants may submit questions to the panelists before or during the event. Please send questions prior to the event to communications@afb.org with "Webinar question" as the subject line.

Panelists:

Stephanie Enyart, Chief Public Policy and Research Officer

Aaron Preece, AccessWorld Editor-in-Chief

Neva Fairchild, National Aging and Vision Loss Specialist

Amir Rahimi, Corporate Relations Specialist

AFB American Foundation® for the Blind

Expanding possibilities for people with vision loss